One long cardigan with ankle boots: balance the hems

Outfit-proportion comparison sheet. Use this planning sheet with the full guide.

1. Choose the trouser hem

Try the trousers and ankle boots together first. Look at whether the hem bunches, catches on the boot or leaves a gap you prefer. Use a mirror or photograph at standing eye level.

2. Add the long layer

Try a long coffee-grey cardigan open over a simple base layer. Compare one shorter base with one longer base and choose the balance you prefer. Avoid assuming the illustrated drape matches a product exactly.

3. Test sitting and walking

Sit, reach and walk before deciding on the outfit. Check real garment and boot measurements and care directions. The optional cardigan is one component; trousers and footwear are not included.

Check actual garment or footwear measurements, care and return terms. The observed research size is not a size recommendation. Other illustrated clothes and props are separate.
Full instructions: figurenook.com/guides/one-long-cardigan-with-ankle-boots-balance-the-hems/

Your printable workspace

Guest count / goal:

Measurements / quantities:

Items already owned:

Optional supplies needed:

Important checks / next action:

Buying an item is optional. Use safe, suitable items you already own.