Rust pillow covers with a navy sofa for fall hosting

Palette and insert sheet • Free, no signup or purchase.

Plan a rust, cream and navy cushion arrangement for a navy sofa before guests arrive. Compare a rust sample against the sofa in daylight and evening light, measure the inserts you already own against the cover size, and keep seating space free. The free sheet has the palette swatches with light notes, an insert and cover table, and care fields.

What you need

- Your navy sofa
- A rust fabric sample, rust cover or other rust item you already own
- The pillow inserts you already have
- A cream or other neutral throw or cushion you already own (optional)
- A tape measure and a pen
- The free palette and insert sheet (PDF), printed on US Letter paper

Steps

1. Compare rust against the sofa
   Hold the rust sample against the navy sofa in daylight and again in evening light, and note how it looks. The illustration and printed swatches are color ideas, not exact matches.
2. Measure the inserts
   Remove each cover and measure the insert seam to seam in both directions. Compare its shape and dimensions with the selected cover's current size and maker's fit guidance; check what is included before buying.
3. Try a restrained arrangement
   Place two rust cushions with one cream or neutral piece you already own, then sit on the sofa. Take a cushion away if a guest would have to move it to sit down.
4. Note care and closures
   Write each cover's care label and closure on the sheet, so a spill can be treated as the label directs.

Tips

- Compare colors in your own room; screens and printers change how rust and navy look.
- The printable is free to download and print. No account, email or purchase is required.
