Slippers as a gift: check size, sole and returns

Printable gift-fit checklist • Free, no signup or purchase.

Before giving slippers, check five things: the recipient's size, whether they wear socks with slippers, the fit style they like, the sole type and the return terms. Then wrap the gift with the receipt and check whether an exchange is allowed. The free gift-fit checklist has the five checks and a line for the date the return window ends.

You need

- The recipient's usual slipper or shoe size, or a pair they wear often
- The seller's size guidance, sole and care details and return terms
- The gift receipt or the order's return details
- The free gift-fit checklist (PDF) printed on US Letter paper, and a pen

1 Find out their size

Ask, or look inside a pair they wear often, for their usual size and whether they wear thick socks with slippers. Compare that with the seller's size guidance, which may suggest sizing up for wider or higher feet.

2 Check the fit style and sole

Decide between a closed or open back and a snug or relaxed fit, based on what they wear now. Read the sole material on the listing. Do not promise grip, pain relief or safety on every floor from a product photo or illustration.

3 Check care and returns before buying

Read the care instructions, since some faux-fur slippers should not be washed often. Read the return terms, including any conditions on trying them on, and write the date the return window ends on the checklist.

4 Wrap the gift with the receipt

Put the gift receipt or return details in the card. Suggest they check the seller's conditions before trying the slippers indoors on a clean floor; eligibility depends on those conditions.

Tips

- If asking would spoil the surprise, check the size printed inside a pair they wear often.
- Write the size you chose on the card so they know what to exchange from.
- The optional product link is an affiliate link. Check the selected product, size, materials, care directions, included items and return terms on the current listing. Other pictured items are separate.
- The printable is free to download and print. No account, email or purchase is required.
